

FIRST STEPS TOWARD SEATING CONTESTED DELEGATES STARTED

Little Progress Made at First Day's Sessions of C. O. P. Committee—All Decisions Will be Made at Open Session of National Committee—Work Will Occupy Most of Week

Chicago, May 31.—In open session today, the Republican national committee began deciding contests from various state delegations to the convention but made only slow progress.

In what Chairman Hays characterized as "judicial rather than political decisions" the committee seated regularly reported delegates from Arkansas and Alabama; postponed the contest over the District of Columbia until tomorrow and after giving an extended hearing to a three-cornered contest from Florida, adjourned over night without making a decision.

Will Take Much of Week
At today's rate of progress, Chairman Hays estimated that the contest would not be cleared up before Friday. Today's decisions will not be factors in the strength of any candidate in the convention and raged principally about the questions of regularity, although the race issue frequently was injected.

In all decisions today, the committee was guided on questions of law and precedent by Charles B. Warren of Detroit, national committeeman from Michigan, who was acting at the request of Chairman Hays as the committee attorney.

At the conclusion of each contest Mr. Warren issued a statement of the reasons upon which the committee was acting. Chairman Hays said that was a part of his plan of laying the committee work before the country. Only seven of the one hundred and thirty-seven contests were decided in the first day's work.

In the Alabama contest the regularly reported delegates were seated in the absence of the contestant.

Seven regularly reported delegates from Arkansas were seated, the negro contestants being dismissed. One delegate instructed for Governor Lowden and two reported favorable to him were among those given seats.

Taking up the contest alphabetically, the committee struck a snag in the Florida contest, where three separate sets of delegates—one each reported favorable to Major General Wood, Governor Lowden and Senator Johnson, respectively—were contesting.

For more than three hours the committee argued over complicated technical points of the Florida case and finally referred it overnight to a sub-committee of three for recommendation tomorrow. The three committeemen were Warren of Michigan, DuPont of Delaware and Parsons of New York.

Georgia Case Today
Besides the decision on the Florida case the committee tomorrow will take up the hard fought controversy between the Wood and Lowden forces in Georgia and that between three separate sets of delegates from the District of Columbia.

The Florida contest argued by the committee involved the question of whether there is, in law, a Republican party in Florida. A regular faction headed by George W. Bean of Tampa, the national committeeman, based its claims upon the Palatka convention of January 29, under a call issued by Daniel T. Gerow of Jacksonville, the Republican state chairman who was elected in 1916 for four years.

The delegation headed by H. L. Anderson of Jacksonville claimed title to election in 1918 under a state primary law of a state executive committee, while the third group, headed by A. L. Church and W. L. Van Dussor of Jacksonville, claimed their seats by virtue of a second convention.

The regularly reported delegates were charged by Mr. Anderson with having forfeited their right to seats by neglecting to file primary nominations for the state committee. He asserted they became defunct as a party organization under a state supreme court decision rendered last May which held that under the primary law five per cent of the vote cast at an election and ceased to be a party organization under the law.

The Church-Van Dussor group contended that both the Bean and Anderson organizations were defunct and that, representing the "real Republicans of Florida," they were calling "for a new deal all around."

They represented that with the large increase of northern immigration into Florida, the state could be considered a doubtful one if the national committee would recognize a Republican organization which they argued would command the support of the electorate.

The regulars were charged with maintaining rule in Florida for patronage purposes largely, and Mr. Anderson declared, in collusion with the Democrats. The Bean-Gerow organization, on a final adjournment of conference charged, was a "close corporation" Saturday.

PRESIDENT TAKES HAND IN FORMING PARTY PLATFORM

Defines His Stand to Chairman Cummings Monday

FIRM ON LEAGUE ISSUE

WASHINGTON, May 31.—President Wilson took a direct hand today in the arrangements for the Democrats national convention at San Francisco, June 28.

Summoning Chairman Cummings of the democratic national committee, to the White house, the president discussed with him the party platform, the League of Nations as a campaign issue, the status of the peace treaty, the senate investigation into pre-convention campaign financing and Mr. Cummings keynote speech.

Mr. Cummings, who will leave tomorrow for San Francisco to remain until after the convention, remained at the White house two hours and returned later to have lunch with the president.

The chairman said the president had talked "very freely and frankly." The league of nations issue, he said, had been sharply defined.

"I have never had any doubt of the verdict," he added, "if the league issue were taken to the people cleared of extraneous matters and misrepresentations."

Platform questions were not discussed at length, Mr. Cummings announced, because the president's views on the subject had been set forth in his letter last week to Senator Glass of Virginia, approving the platform adopted by the Democratic convention in the state two weeks ago. It was indicated that the party platform would be patterned along the general lines of that of the Virginia convention.

Mr. Cummings declined to say anything about the peace treaty discussion further than to announce that both he and the president have "very definite ideas" on the subject. He would not say whether the treaty would be returned to the senate any time soon. The national chairman made no comment on his talk with the president about the senate campaign investigation other than to say that the president was in "good humor," and that if there had been any doubt that the next president would be nominated at San Francisco, "the Republican cause here dispelled it."

President Wilson's expected to confer with other party leaders before the convention and while it is in progress he will be in direct touch.

Chevrolet Winner of 500 Mile Auto Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31.—In the most spectacular finish ever witnessed on the Indianapolis Speedway, Gaston Chevrolet, driving a car of American design, rode to victory in the eighth renewal of the 500 mile automobile race today before a record-breaking crowd of 125,000 persons. Chevrolet's time was 8:40:16.14 an average of 88.16 miles an hour, the second best time in the history of the event.

In addition to winning the $2,000 1st prize Chevrolet also won approximately $5,500 more in lap prize competition and cash prizes offered by accessory firms. Rene Thomas finished in second place, having covered the distance in 8:43:02.29. His average was 87.45 miles an hour. Tommy Milton pulled up in third place and Jimmy Murphy, winner of the Santa Monica road race, finished fourth.

All of the thrills came in the last thirty miles of the race when Ralph DePalma, the favorite, with a lead of ten miles to his credit, seemed certain of winning. But with victory within his grasp DePalma's car burst into flames on the north turn of the two and a half mile course and a few minutes later the car driven by Joe Boyer who led during the first 250 miles, skidded, overturned and crashed into a brick retaining wall within a few feet of the spot where DePalma's car caught fire. Neither Boyer nor his mechanic was seriously injured.

The accident which snatched victory from DePalma was tragic. While his mechanic fought the flames, DePalma ran to the pits a mile away for a fresh supply of gasoline and resumed the race but after going another mile his car was again ablaze. DePalma pluckily extinguished them and finished the race in fifth place. He was given an ovation when he thundered across the line.

Misfortune trailed DePalma from the start. He had the favored position at the pole, but the bomb of the starter caught him unawares, and he was among the last to get away. Then on the first lap he was driven into the pits with a flat tire.

Joe Boyer took the lead and hed it for 250 miles, closely pursued by Jean Chassagne, Gaston Chevrolet, and Rene Thomas. When half of the race was over, Boyer made his first stop at the pits and DePalma shot into the lead, which he maintained until his car caught on fire.

There were half a dozen accidents, but the drivers and their aides miraculously escaped death. Louis Chevrolet also was in a smashup. His car skidded off the course when a steering connection broke. Chevrolet's back was injured and he withdrew.

Roscoe Saltes smashed up two cars, first by skidding off the track and later while driving as relief for Bennie Hill, when a steering knuckle broke. Chevrolet drove a consistent race from the start and never was below fourth place. Most of the day he was in the second or third. He trailed DePalma from the 350th mile point and took the lead when DePalma had to stop.

Merchants of Indianapolis donated $20,000 to be distributed as added money, $100 to the winner of each of the 200 laps. Of this money Boyer won $9,500; DePalma $3,800; Gaston Chevrolet $1,300; Rene Thomas $700; Klein and Jean Chassagne $100 each.

MORE MONEY FOR POSTAL WORKERS IS RECOMMENDED

Increases Submitted to Congress by Joint Committee

EARLY ACTION IS EXPECTED

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Increased salaries for postal employees amounting to approximately $33,000,000 for the first year, effective July 1 were recommended in a report to congress today by a joint congressional committee.

Increases of from $150 to $250 for postal clerks and letter carriers with $400 for supervisory officers were recommended. No increases for first class postmasters receiving over $5,000 a year were proposed however.

Estimates by the commission place the increase of the postal pay roll at about $38,000,000 for the second year and $43,000,000 for the third and fourth years.

For rural delivery carriers, the committee recommended $1,800 for a twenty-four mile route and an additional $30 for each mile in excess of that. Motor route carriers covering fifty miles would receive not over $2,600. The pay of village delivery carriers would be from $1,000 to $1,200. Should the recommendations be adopted, clerks at first and second class postoffices and city carriers would be divided into five classes, the first class receiving $1,400 annually and $100 added for each class substitute and temporary clerks sixty cents an hour and special clerks from $1,900 to $2,000 annually. Watchmen, messengers and laborers would be divided into two grades, the first $1,350 and the second $1,450.

Clerks in the postal mail service would be divided into six classes, first class $1,600, sixth class $2,300, the others graduated between.

Service for all clerks would be on an average of 8 hours per pay, 306 days per year. Division superintendents in the postal mail service would receive $4,200 annually.

A graduated increase was proposed for first class postmasters receiving less than $5,000 annually, ranging from $200 to $400 for postmasters now receiving $3,000 to $3,700 annually $400 to $500 for those now getting between $3,700 and 3,800 and $500 and $600 for those whose pay is between $3,900 and $4,000. Second class postmasters whose present salary ranges from $2,300 to $3,000 would receive an increase from $100 to $200. Assistant postmasters would receive $50 for each grade up to $2,150. Third class postmasters would be increased $300 from basic salaries each, the salaries ranging from $1,000 to $2,200. The commission also recommended that fourth class postmasters be allowed 140 per cent on cancellations of $75 per quarter and less, 15 per cent from $75 to $100 of cancellations per quarter and in excess of $100 per quarter, 100 per cent on the first $100; 75 per cent on the next $100 and 60 per cent on the remainder. The commission recommended a graduated scale of pay based on office receipts for supervisory officers in first class postoffices. The scale ranges from $2,200 for assistant postmasters and $2,100 for superintendents of mail in offices with receipts between $40,000 and $75,000 to $4,600 for the former and $4,400 for the latter when receipts are above $200,000 annually. Fifteen days vacation annually with pay for all employees and sick leave of not more than thirty days a year with pay also are recommended.

Bills providing for carrying out the commissions recommendations will be introduced but action before the national convention is considered unlikely.

Representative Madden of Illinois is a member of the committee which was appointed more than a year ago.

SENATE COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING MEX SITUATION REPORTS

Armed Intervention is Recommended Should New Government Fail to Show Inability or Unwillingness to Set up a Stable Government More Friendly to the United States

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Armed intervention in Mexico, should the new forces in control there show an inability or unwillingness to set up a stable government more friendly towards Americans, was recommended to the senate today by the foreign relations sub-committee which has been investigating Mexican affairs. Should a stable government be established, the committee recommended that full recognition be accorded it and that the financial aid be offered by the United States.

The committee said, however, that full recognition should not be given until a treaty had been entered into predicated upon assurances.

That provisions of Article 27 of the constitution of 1917, commonly regarded by foreigners as confiscatory shall not be enforced against Americans.

providing that none but a Mexican citizen may be a minister of any religious creed in Mexico and that no periodical of a religious character shall comment upon any political affairs of the nation, or publish any information regarding the acts of the authorities or private individuals in so far as they have to do with public affairs, be inapplicable to Americans.

That the provisions that no minister nor religious corporation may conduct schools or primary instruction, shall not be applicable in the case of Americans, and that the article under which undesirable foreigners may be expelled be so revised as to give Americans the right to confer with the representative of their government.

Propose Claims Commission
The recommendations also proposed a provisions in the agreement for the immediate payment of a claims commission to adjudicate the claims Americans to be made up of men chosen by the two governments and with the understanding that its findings be binding and immediately carried out by the payment of damages adjudged. Should the Mexican officials fail to agree to such a plan or to establish a government capable of affording adequate protection to Americans, the committee suggested sending a police force, consisting of the naval and military forces of our government into the Republic of Mexico to open and maintain open every line of communication between the city of Mexico and every seaport and every border port of Mexico.

This should be sent in, the committee said, after notice has been given the Mexican people that the United States was not warring on them and that its sole purpose was to restore peace, protect Americans and their possessions and to afford the Mexican people themselves an opportunity to form a stable government.

Should the Mexican authorities meet the proposals set forth, the committee recommended that the United States finance the Mexican government, adding that the money might come from the American people as a long time loan.

All Favor Report
The report of the sub-committee prepared by the chairman, Senator Fall, Republican of New Mexico, was concurred in by the other committee members, Senator Brandegee, Republican, and Senator Smith, Arizona Democrat, and ordered presented to the senate without debate and that it be printed.

It probably will be called up later. Any action by the senate in approving the committee's recommendations, it was said, would be in the form of recommendations to the president.

The report contains a sharp arraignment of those who have directed Mexican affairs since the overthrow of Porfirio Diaz in 1911. For the Mexican people, however, it sounds a note of sympathy.

The committee urged that before any recognition was ordered General de la Huerta, the revolutionary leader, who will become the president ad interim tomorrow, he demonstrate that his administration has the stability to endure and that it is disposed to comply with the rules of international comity and the obligations of treaties. The report was based on testimony obtained from witnesses and a mass of documentary evidence. It set forth that since the Madero revolution began there have been killed in Mexico 161 Americans and many other foreigners. The number of Americans killed on the American side of the border was placed at 126.

Damage Large
The aggregate damage that the committee estimated should be paid for the death of these Americans was given as $14,675,000, while the total summary of losses incurred by Americans in Mexico was placed at $605,002,434.

Mr. McSweeney, campaign manager for Senator Johnson, says that his candidate is easily the most popular with the voters of the country. Just why this statement should be carried in the metropolitan headlines is hard to understand. Every manager will make the same claim for his particular candidate.

Immigration is now said to be increasing and in recent weeks the number of aliens arriving is more than the number going back to their native lands. The superintendent of the immigration station at Ellis Island derides the idea that prohibition has in any way restricted immigration. The superintendent points out other reasons to account for the falling off. This man is in a position to know, and so another argument advanced by the opponents of prohibition has been answered.

MR. MCCOMBS' VIEWS

William F. McCombs, former chairman of the democratic national committee, who ought to be considered pretty good democratic authority, says that if McAdoo were nominated "he would necessarily carry into the campaign the handicap of the 'crown prince' idea. He opines that McAdoo's nomination would carry a suggestion of 'dictated dynastic succession' and that the republicans in that event 'might well say something along the line of creation of an American empire.' Mr. McCombs has put into words what a good many millions of Americans have been thinking. Still, there are not lacking evidences that the administration's political machinery is being fixed up to help the "crown prince" get the nomination.

A GLANCE AT BUSINESS CONDITIONS

The Bache Review for the current week has this interesting comment:

England's Foresight

In contrast to the United States, where we have been doing a great deal of talking and little acting, England's meeting the situation with its powerful far-sightedness and superior banking intelligence. There is no talk of panic in England. There is no timidity on the part of bankers in extending foreign credits to substantial interests. Money is not tight as we know it in this country. On the other side the sentiment is that America has the resources, the wealth and the money, and the usual expression of opinion is one of wonder at the slowness and apparent inability of American banking interests to grasp what is universally conceded to be the greatest opportunity ever presented to a nation to establish itself in foreign markets.

England is taking advantage of the present opportunity to the fullest extent. Commercial travelers and bank representatives are on every boat, and no part of the world that has possibilities for foreign trade is being neglected. England sees the golden opportunity to obtain the lion's share of Germany's foreign trade, and is not neglecting any change to get it. In a year or two the United States will awaken to the fact that its industrial capacity far exceeds the ability of its people to consume its products, and will want these foreign markets. Then it will be too late because England will be too firmly entrenched.

It may be sound to attempt to bring about deflation in this country, and through high money rates the restriction of credit to bring about arbitrarily a stopping of the expansion of business. But it is as a nation we need the foreign markets this policy must be revised at least to the extent of becoming more liberal in the granting of foreign credits, even though this causes still further inflation for the time being. The granting of credits to Europe will give us a permanent share of their business. The restriction of these credits will leave the field entirely in the possession of the English bankers whose broad vision and far-sightedness will give to England a financial supremacy and prestige far greater than that which she has enjoyed for centuries.

Outlook

Whatever may prove to be ultimate results from actual or developing conditions, there is a widespread improvement in sentiment based on favorable factors. Some of these may be cited as follows:

The fear of panic has subsided under the influence of sound reasoning and the assurance that the well-spring of note-issuing power in the Federal Reserve system positively prohibits any such currency panics as used to prevail. Evidence of this is, in fact, that we have been passing through a limited commercial crisis without the occurrence of disaster. * * * A large gold consignment, $20,000,000, has come in this week from Hongkong, and the favorable exchange with Argentina has caused release of a substantial block of gold, $4,500,000, held here for the Argentine government. * * * Conditions in the railroad congestion have been improving and tied-up freight is reaching destination more freely, there being turned into cash. * * * The reductions in prices throughout the country, while spotty, have, through large sales, brought more ready money into the banking situation. These reductions are good signs, although it is not probable that price reductions are permanent or that they will continue either all along the line or down steadily to lower levels. * * * There is a better wheat and crop outlook than has prevailed for some months.

All these things have helped the money situation, and the stock market has been reflecting their influence. There is still considerable water to go through the commercial mill before smoothly-running conditions can be brought about. The security market is the ship's engine, shut down until the rough weather subsides; but there are clearing signs on the horizon.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

By the Sea.
I'm at La Jolla, by the sea; the view is something fine, with large blue billows rolling free, five thousand miles of brine. The grand old ocean is my lawn, it slopes against my door; no dandelions grow thereon, to make my spirit sore. The water booms into caves, reminding me of this: I do not have to mow the waves; and such a thought is bliss. I see the billows, high and dark, the endless surge and swell; I see the seals and hear them bark, as though they'd things to sell. And I could sit and watch the sea one thousand years or two, and every hour 't would bring to me some message strange and new. It's saying, as it sighs and raves, and murmurs, moans and pleads, "You do not have to mow my waves, or from me dig the weeds." The salt sea sloshes round my coop, and sharks come up and play, and I sit out, upon the steep, and smile the livelong day. I've always had a lawn to mow, and weeds to dig at night; no sandbars in the ocean grow, to mar my estate delight.

ANNUAL SERVICE HELD
FOR I. W. C. SENIORS

Dr. Joseph Harker Preached Baccalaureate Sermon at Centenary Church — Other Ministers Had Part in Service.

A large audience was present at Centenary church Sunday night for the annual baccalaureate service of Illinois Woman's college. Dr. Joseph R. Harker, president of the college, made the address, using as his theme, "Following Jesus." Methodist ministers present were Rev. E. L. Fletcher, Rev. D. V. Gowdy, Rev. T. H. Tull, Rev. G. W. Randle, Dr. F. M. Rule. Miss Larimore was at the organ and a semi-chorus from the college sang two numbers. Miss Clara Moore played with artistic excellence a violin solo and an andante from a concerto of Mendelssohn and Miss Louise Miller sang, effectively, "The Lord is My Light."

Dr. Harker took as his text Matthew 19: 20-21: "The Young Man Said to Jesus, 'What Lack I Yet?' Jesus answered 'If thou wouldst be perfect come follow me.'"

It was an address in which in a very appealing way the speaker impressed the thought that a training of the mind is not worth while unless the greatest of all lessons had been learned and there is a sincere desire to walk thru life hand in hand with the Master.

In words addressed in a personal way to the graduates Dr. Harker said:

Address to Graduates.
"I want you to remember this as my last college message to you. The college has done much for you. It has trained you, guided you, equipped you. It has opened the door of opportunity a little wider for you into every department of human life and thought and endeavor. I trust you will ever think most kindly of your College Mother, and do all you can in every way to repay what you owe her. She has done all she could for you with the means at her command, and the equipment that has been provided. She would be of she could do more. Make it possible for her to do more every coming year by furnishing more ample equipment and endowment, and by interesting other friends who can help in similar ways."

"But the chief thing we can do for you is what I have tried to do through all the years you have been here, and what I have especially tried to do in this message tonight. Bring your face to face with Jesus Christ. Have I made it any clearer to you? Is Christ any nearer, any dearer to you? We can give you training and equipment for life service; we can show you your own powers and capabilities, we can help you to see the whitened fields, awaiting your sickle. But we will have done most for you if we can bring you to Christ, to kneel before Him in reverent love and definitely determine to follow where he leads."

"What shall the answer be? Must it be said of any of you, as it was said of the young ruler, 'When he heard Jesus' words, his brow darkened, and he went away sad? God forbid! What a tragedy of life that would be! Shall it not be rather that every one of you, with uplifted face, radiant with all the joy of new-born life and love and courage will say, 'Lead on, O King Eternal!' Thus you will most honor and justify your Alma Mater. Then will the world take knowledge of you, and say of the Woman's College graduates, as they ought to be able to do. 'These women have heard Jesus; hear them speak. See how nobly they serve; see how quickly they respond to every call of need; see what peace they have, what judgment, what zeal, what vision, what power: They are following Jesus.'"

"We have just sung that inspiring hymn of Dr. Frank Mason North, 'Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life.' In the fifth stanza we prayed: 'O Master from the mountain side, Make haste to heal these hearts of pain. Among the restless throngs abide, O tread the city's streets again.'"

"But it is not Christ's plan to thus come in his own actual bodily form to tread the city's streets again. He has a better plan than that. He multiplies himself a million fold by sending you, into your own homes he sends you, carrying the Christ spirit, and the Christ peace and helpfulness. Into your several communities he sends you to join hands with every agency for the betterment of the community, to relieve suffering and want and to promote good will, in his name. Where cross the crowded ways of life, in haunts of wretchedness and need, in our own cities, in our rural districts, in Asia, in Africa, in the Islands of the sea, wherever the adventuring Christ will go, there you will be ministering in his name, calming the world's fever, healing the world's wounds. 'So you will be following Christ, and honoring him. So will you honor us, so will you honor yourselves, and so some day, at the great commencement, when the baccalaureate honors are awarded, will you hear him say, 'Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of one of these, ye did it unto Me. Come, ye blessed of my Father, come, follow Me, into everlasting life.'"

To All Whom It May Concern: You are hereby notified that since my wife, Kathleen McGinnis, is living apart from me, without reasonable cause, I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her.

Despite All the Talk

Clothes will not be appreciably cheaper this summer, any they will not be any cheaper next fall—nor until the supply of wool equals the demand. Like the "Overall Fall," this talk of prices coming down is just some one's brainstorm—done to scare folks into buying things they possibly could get along without. And say, you know orders for next fall have been placed long ago—every merchant knows now just what his prices will be then

BUSINESS MAN SINGS PRAISES

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and gas continually. Doctors thought I had stomach ulcers or cancer. After last attack they advised going to Rochester, Minn., for an operation. A friend advised trying Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did, and I cannot speak in praise too highly, as I can now eat anything and everything." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach liver and intestinal ailments. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

The Egyptian suit which closed the program showed a variety of tempo which pleased.

The program thruout reflected credit upon the conductor; and also upon the work done by Miss Moore, who had charge of the string section of the orchestra. The work of Miss Mary McGhee and Miss Taylor on the key board instruments added much to the volume as well as to the variety of the tone quality.

Another appearance of the orchestra will be anticipated with great pleasure.

PRODUCE MARKET REVIEW.

The Swift produce review for the week says:

There is an active demand for fresh poultry although the supply is larger, prices show but little change.

The supply of eggs during the week has been sufficient for current and storage requirements and prices are ruling lower than a week ago.

There has been a seasonable increase in the amount of cream delivered to our creameries this week but a larger supply than necessary for current requirements and butter has not generally been of satisfactory quality for storage. It is expected, however, that we will get full grass butter during the first week of June. Prices are ruling lower than the previous week, due to the larger receipts, and are also affected to some extent by the importations of foreign butter.

JOHN BRIDGES FOUND NOT GUILTY BY JURY

Case of Waverly Man Concluded In Few Hours Time—Chancery Cases Heard.

Circuit court was in session Monday and John Bridges of Waverly was on trial. He was charged with a statutory offense and at a previous term of court the jury did not agree. Yesterday the jury to hear the case was quickly empaneled, less than half an hour being consumed in their examination. The case was briefly presented and was in the hands of the jurors at about 5 o'clock.

They returned a verdict at 9:45 o'clock last night finding the defendant guilty.

The charge against Bridges was originally made by his daughter, now 16 years old and living at the soldiers' orphans' home in Normal. She came yesterday to testify in the case but was an unwilling witness. The evidence against Bridges was not strong.

The jurors were Thomas Reaugh, C. J. Roberts, J. W. McAllister, Fred Shelburn, G. W. Eads, E. J. Christopher, C. O. Lenke, Martin Cosgriff, C. P. Wilson, G. E. DeWeese, James McDonald, C. L. Hankins.

In the partition suit of Oliver Obert et al. vs. Oliver Angelo, the master's report of evidence and nonclusion was filed and approved. A decree of partition was entered for assignment of dower and homestead and for the appointment of commissioners.

In the suit of Susan Cohagan vs. E. E. Cohagan, bill for divorce and relief, motion was made by the complainant to redocket the cause. This motion was allowed.

Orchestra Concert

Commencement Event

Woman's College Orchestra Gave Brilliant Concert Monday Evening—Mr. Pearson Proves Capable Director—Miss Miller Assisted as Soloist.

One of the events of the commencement season at the Illinois Womans college that has been well spoken of before it's presentation was the orchestra concert. But if well spoken of before the words of universal praise which were heard afterward were certainly gratifying.

In the role of orchestral conductor, Mr. Pearson made his first appearance at this concert and proved his mettle.

The program opened with the ever beautiful and beloved "Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert. It was indeed an ambitious work for a student organization to present, but was very well given and greatly enjoyed by the audience.

The appearance, as soloist, of Miss Louise Miller again showed her superiority as a singer, and her reception by the large audience was most enthusiastic.

While an encore would have been appreciated and was insisted upon by the audience Miss Miller smilingly acknowledged the praise of the auditors and refrained from breaking into the unity of the program.

The Egyptian suit which closed the program showed a variety of tempo which pleased.

The program thruout reflected credit upon the conductor; and also upon the work done by Miss Moore, who had charge of the string section of the orchestra. The work of Miss Mary McGhee and Miss Taylor on the key board instruments added much to the volume as well as to the variety of the tone quality.

Another appearance of the orchestra will be anticipated with great pleasure.

FLAMING, ITCHING SKIN DISEASES

Cause Untold Suffering That Could Be Avoided

Diseases of the skin come from beneath the surface, hence they can be reached only by remedies that penetrate down to their very source.

If you are afflicted with eczema, tetter, erysipelas, ringworms, pimples, acne, scalp eruptions, boils, irritations of the skin, or other similar disorders, you need not expect any real relief from local applications, and the sooner you discard their use the sooner you will be on the road to recovery, provided you will rely upon the use of S. S. S.

Very often the itching and irritation are so severe, that you feel disposed to try almost anything for relief, and that is why you rely upon local treatment of salves, ointments, washes and such remedies.

But these remedies cannot possibly have any real curative effect upon the trouble, because your disease comes from far below the surface.

S. S. S. is one of the most satisfactory remedies for diseases of the skin because it goes direct to the seat of the trouble and by cleansing the blood of all impurities and disease germs, it keeps the skin free from infection, and restores it to its normal, healthy condition.

WINCHESTER CLUB HAS ANNUAL MAY BREAKFAST

Winchester, May 31.—The general assembly of the Woman's Club closed the year's work with the annual May Breakfast Monday at 12:30 o'clock at the beautiful home of Mrs. J. C. Groat. There was a large attendance and the occasion was in every way a pleasant one. A brief business session was held, when the treasurer, Mrs. Gertrude Demereth, reported on the year's finances and Mrs. David Hainsworth reported that the committee had secured a lecture course for the coming winter. Mrs. J. C. Groat and Miss Caroline McLaughlin, who attended the federation meeting in Chicago last week, made interesting reports about the splendid program given during the three days.

Mrs. Effie McKean of Springfield was heard in a brief address. The club has had a very pleasant and profitable year, and much credit is due the members and especially the president, Miss Miner, for her untiring efforts to make the club a success.

Memorial services were held at the Baptist church Sunday morning for the members of the G. A. R. attending in a body. The sermon was by Rev. W. B. Morris. Special music was furnished by Misses Louise Frost and Winifred Morris, and the church choir also furnished two numbers.

Song—Sextette.
Address—Hon. Norman L. Jones, Carrollton.

At the close of the program a procession was formed, headed by the band, the young soldiers marching and the older ones conveyed in automobiles, and the services were concluded at the cemetery where the graves were decorated.

Theron M. Bates, aged seventy eight, well known to many people in Jacksonville, was found dead in his bed at his home in Coshocton, Ohio last Thursday, as a result of heart disease. Mr. Bates had previously been in seemingly good health and the news of his death came as a severe shock to his relatives and friends. He was for a number of years superintendent of transportation of the Chicago and Alton railroad and retired from that position in 1893.

Charles T. Bates of Roodhouse is a son and interment is to be made at Roodhouse.

Mr. Bates was born October 8, 1844 in Pierpont. He lived there until in his early twenties when he moved to Erie, Pa. At Erie he became interested in the railroad business and took a position as chief train dispatcher there. Later he left for the west and in the state of Illinois he became the superintendent of transportation of the Chicago and Alton railway company.

Mr. Bates organized the first railroad Y. M. C. A. in the west, in the state of Illinois. He moved to Coshocton three years ago. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, having united with the church in his boyhood, at his home.

He was the oldest Knights Templar in Coshocton and had been in the Commandery for the past 50 years.

There are four children surviving: Charles T. Bates, Roodhouse, Ill.; Frank A., Chicago; Mrs. O. P. Begole, 217 North Sixth street and Flora F. Bates of the home, Margaret Bates, a grandchild, Roodhouse, Ill., who has been staying at the home here, also survives.

The funeral services were held at the home of the daughter, Mrs. O. P. Begole, Saturday afternoon.

His body was taken to the Oak Ridge cemetery at Coshocton. Later the body will be removed to Roodhouse, Ill., where interment will be made beside the body of his late wife.

MEMORIAL DAY WAS FITTINGLY OBSERVED

Exercises Were Fraught With Patriotic Sentiment—Addresses by Father Formaz and Rev. W. H. Marbach at Calvary and Diamond Grove—Main Exercises in Centenary Church.

Decoration or memorial day dawned bright and clear filling with joy the hearts of the veterans who were anxious to pay the last tribute of respect to their comrades who had answered the final roll call.

Early in the day the good ladies of the Relief Corps assembled at G. A. R. hall to receive and arrange the flowers for the occasion. The boys scouts were also on hand and plenty of automobiles to convey all who could go to Calvary and Diamond Grove cemeteries. A goodly number responded and there was plenty of flowers for all the graves.

At Calvary Cemetery. Arriving at Calvary cemetery the members of the G. A. R. and Relief Corps and friends gathered about the grave of a veteran where the beautiful and impressive ritual of the order was carried out. In addition Rev. F. F. Formaz made a very fine and appropriate address of which a brief outline is offered.

There are times when words seem wholly inadequate to express the emotions that well up in the soul and silence seems more appropriate; when language is inadequate to convey the sentiments we feel. The meaning of the ceremonies here today are indeed full of deep significance and there is no one here who can fully realize the measure of devotion of those who fell in the cause of their beloved country. We here today are indeed glad to pay our tribute to their memory and express our appreciation of the grand and glorious heritage which their valor and devotion secured for us.

Liberty of Man Vindicated. We have just passed through a great world war in which the liberties of man have been vindicated, monarchies overthrown and justice has triumphed but had not the brave men gone out in 1861 to 1865 we would not have been here today part of a great and glorious nation but our grand union would have been dissolved and the land might have been divided into warring factions without liberty or prosperity as is the case with so many unhappy lands today.

These brave men were willing to make this great sacrifice on the altar of their country and we do not begrudge anything we can do to make the memory of their deeds honored. Nor should we honor their names decoration day only for that would simply mean sporadic enthusiasm without value or worth. All the year we should so conduct ourselves that it will be seen that we mean to live worthily and conduct ourselves in a manner befitting those who enjoy such great privileges as we have and which have been preserved at such a cost.

Let us who remain so live that we may implant in the hearts of all true patriotism, that in the words of the immortal martyr, Lincoln, in our land government, not of the capitalist, not of the laboring man, not of the manufacturer, not of the artisan, but of the people, by the people and for the people may not perish from the earth.

A pleasant feature of the occasion was the fact that by the G. A. R. commander stood Father Formaz and Rev. W. H. Marbach, each participating fraternally in the exercise of the day.

The procession then moved to Diamond Grove cemetery and assembled about the newly made resting place of Capt. J. M. Swales where again the ritual was carried out. Here Rev. W. R. Marbach made an excellent address saying in part:

As we stand under the clear canopy of Heaven to decorate the last resting place of our fallen heroes, let us remember that in Sunday's service today thousands of the graves of our departed, noble defenders will be duly honored by our friends across the seas.

One Brotherhood. It is eminently suitable that we link the khaki with the men and the memory of '76; of '61 and of '98. I was very much pleased today when a member of the Grand Army addressed me as comrade for we are all one grand brotherhood. Well may we make the sentiments of the Jewish patriots ours when he said:

"O, Jerusalem, may my right hand forget cunning if I forget thee; may my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joys."

Let us have that sentiment toward our own land and devote to it the best of our lives. The heroes whose last resting places we decorate gave their lives and all that we might have today the grand and glorious country in which we live. This is memorial day and so we place flowers on the tombs of our fallen heroes and yet we should not think of this day as a day of mourning and sadness but rather of triumph and victory. Our soldiers fought and won the battles in which they were engaged and a grand and glorious victory was achieved and that should be the motto today. The message today is the feeling that the great sacrifice was fruitful and each war in which our land has been engaged has been for the cause of freedom and righteousness.

Veterans of the civil war; men whose heads are white with the advancing years; we honor you today; may God's richest blessings be yours. This day had not been had you not taken your lives in your hands and gone forth to toil, to march, to endure hardships, wounds, hunger and if need be, to die that we might have a free land. We feel the notes of victory for the ones who have left us have gone to fight reward above and soon too we shall decorate your last resting places and we who remain shall sing the notes of the victory your valor achieved.

The Boy Scouts and the ladies then strewed flowers on the graves of all veterans of the civil, Spanish and world wars, and the morning exercises were ended with the benediction by Rev. W. H. Marbach.

Afternoon.

Promptly at 1:30 the G. A. R. and Women's Relief Corps met at G. A. R. hall and escorted by the DeSilva drum corps, Boy Scouts and a detachment from Co. B, under command of Lieut. F. E. Farrell, marched to Centenary church where all was in readiness for the main exercises of the day.

The interior was handsomely decorated with flags and portraits of great men and the program began on time with an organ prelude by Miss Myrtle Larimore followed with prayer by Rev. D. V. Gowdy. Gen. Logan's order was then read in a fine manner by Hugh Green after which Miss Ainslee Moore sang in a finished and accomplished manner the Battle Hymn of the Republic, ably accompanied on the organ by Miss Larimore. Carl Robinson then gave a brief account of the dedication exercises at the battle field of Gettysburg and then well recited Lincoln's immortal address on that occasion.

Then followed the oration of the day by Rev. T. H. Tull, pastor of Grace M. E. church and he spoke honestly, the gentleman's effort proved one grand surprise as he was known only in his pulpit and not as an orator and none more regretted the fact than the committee of arrangements that he had agreed to limit himself to half an hour. His address was indeed fine and should have been much longer as it would have been heard with great pleasure. Several times he was interrupted with hearty applause and all enjoyed the speech of which a few thoughts are offered.

It is a genuine pleasure with which I appear here today for it is always pleasant to bestow honor where honor is due. In our church we had stirring addresses by Hugh Green and Audrain Fox and it is ever a pleasure to hear the men who fought to defend their country.

Should Never Forget. Mr. Green uttered one warning "Let us Never Forget." Some say let us forget the days of the civil war, the Spanish-American and the great world war but I contend that it would be a positive calamity to do so. The summer blossoms strewn on the graves of the noble dead will soon wither but the memory of the Grand Army of the Republic will remain as long as our land is in existence.

Now is the time to acquaint ourselves with the facts of American history. Think what a mighty task faced Abraham Lincoln when he was called to guide this nation during the awful days of the rebellion. And some one has said, the double headed monster of slavery and rebellion has been killed but his tail kept wiggling for thirty years. Mr. Lincoln was like man ordered to build a city with no materials except what were in the unquarried mine and the unbroken forest.

The south being in power and scattered the army, removed the ammunition and arms to the south yet there was the vast sea coast to blockade and the rivers to guard. No wonder the nations of Europe said it couldn't be done; that the confederacy would surely succeed. Bravely Lincoln took the country in his hands; he shook it till he took the vulture from the eagle, aroused a spirit of patriotism, broke the shackles from the slave and like Moses grandly led the people through the sad wilderness of war to final victory.

It was comparatively unknown at the beginning; with a heavy heart he bade his friends and neighbors goodbye and entered Washington at night with but one companion, but when in the silent embrace of death he left the city the great ones of the nation vied to do him honor while Queen Victoria and the French people sent tokens of appreciation.

Grant, the Silent Leader. Nor should we forget Gen. Grant, the silent and mighty leader. Having been educated at West Point he wrote the war department tendering his services but the letter wasn't answered. Later he tried two days to get an interview with Gen. McClellan and failed; then he went to Springfield and offered his services to Gov. Yates and was set to copying at a desk.

Then when the 21st Illinois regiment proved too much for their colonel, Grant was put in command and he went on from Paducah, Ft. Henry, Ft. Donelson, to Antietam and Appomattox. When Gen. Buell criticised him for throwing 40,000 men against a fort with a river behind him and transportation for only 10,000 asking him what he would have done in case of a retreat; Grant replied he had no intention of retreating.

"But what if you had been compelled to retreat?"

"I guess there would not have been more than 10,000 men left to transport" was the quiet reply. And what shall we say of the private soldier? The war of 1812 we were wholly unprepared; the British landed, took Washington, burned the capitol and president's mansion and sang while the flames were roaring.

It has been said that a soldier is made with a uniform and food but that is not the case. He is made by weary marches, hunger, cold, drill, battle, privation and hardship by sleeping on the wet ground, by the bayonet thrust and the rifle's bullet. Never, never shall we forget the marvelous sacrifice made by the noble men who saved our land.

Hand of God in All Things.

Nor should we forget our Creator but should see the hand of God in all things. When Lincoln was elected he had in stand silently by and see President Buchanan weakly permit the rebel forces take every advantage of the government, a scattered navy, a decimated army; ammunition and arms sent south. You remember when the Merrimack ruthlessly sank our wooden ships and it seemed as if our cause was lost. Then it was that fateful morning when the little Monitor steamed into Hampton Roads, a vessel the confederacy sneeringly called a Yankee cheese box but how she did batter down the ugly monster which had done such awful destruction.

The emperor of France proposed to the English government that the confederacy be recognized but his communication was not needed. Hoping to win favor abroad Lee marched to Antietam his troops singing, "My Maryland" but he met defeat. Again he essayed to carry the war to the north and marched to Gettysburg for the great conflict there. In that awful engagement 23,000 union soldiers were killed and 30,000 confederate. The charge of Gen. Pickett, was one of the mightiest efforts and when it failed the day of the confederacy was doomed as Vicksburg fell at the same time and the father of waters flowed unobstructed to the gulf.

Our noble rank and file; the men who made victory possible, will ever be held in grateful remembrance. The mighty leaders can never be forgotten. Nor must we ever forget our Creator for if we do some day a man from abroad will visit this country and gaze on a pile of rubbish that was once our proud capitol. Be true to the memory of the fallen; to the memory of all who fought to save the land and to Him who rules in all things.

Then came a fine recitation by Franklin Scott, son of Prof. Scott of Illinois College. The young man gave the history of Lincoln's Gettysburg address, recited it and told a touching story of the manner in which a dying confederate officer praised it.

At Jacksonville Cemetery. The March to the Jacksonville cemetery then was made a large delegation from the state school for the deaf joining. At the cemetery the ritual of the G. A. R. was again carried out, a salute was fired by the detachment from Co. B, taps were sounded and the benediction by Rev. D. V. Gowdy ended the exercises.

It would be a pleasure to the G. A. R. to acknowledge by name all who aided in making the affair a success but it is impracticable. Those who sent flowers, furnished automobiles, and helped in any way are remembered with gratitude. It is no more than fair to speak of Charles DeSilva's loyal drum corps, serving free, the Boy Scouts and Co. B, the marshals, Capt. Wesley James, Charles S. Black, Lloyd James, Misses Roberta Black and Annette Brown.

The Story of 16 Nominations

By A. H. Vandenberg

THIRTEENTH CONVENTION

The thirteenth Republican National Convention met at Chicago June 21, 1904. Mark Hanna, chairman of the National Committee, and perhaps the most courted men in American public life—had died February 15 previous, and the gathering was called to order by Vice-Chairman Henry C. Payne, Elihu Root of New York was temporary chairman, and "Uncle Joe" Cannon was permanent chairman.

So thoroughly pre-ordained was the Convention's routine, that about the only contest stirred up in the three days' sitting was over a motion to cut Hawaii to two delegates—a motion which carried to the close division of 495 to 490.

The assassination of McKinley and the eminently successful and popular succession of Theodore Roosevelt, made it inevitable that his name alone should be considered for first place on the ticket. He received 994 votes—the Convention total.

Possibility of argument over the Vice-Presidency was foreclosed.

FOR THE THOUGHT-LESS CAR DRIVERS

The people of the United States are again on wheels—swift, pleasure-giving, but dangerous. Last year nearly 4,000 persons were carried to their death at grade crossings alone. William F. Bigelow, in May Good Housekeeping, says: "Three factors bear the most blame for these deaths: carelessness, or neglect of warnings; recklessness, or attempts to outrun properly to safeguard crossings. If drivers alone were the victims, the case against the man at the wheel would be a serious one; but few are the accidents in which only one is killed. Usually two or more passengers have placed themselves at the mercy of the driver, counting upon him to exercise that caution which the state expects of every person authorized to drive a car. The added responsibility unfortunately does not increase the driver's caution; the reverse is more often the case. He talks with his passengers and does not see or hear warnings; to impress them he takes chances he would not take if alone. "To learn how to run and manage a car is not everything," says a statement issued by a western railroad. "We submit that a thing greatly needed by a host of drivers is to learn how to run and manage themselves."

SKIN HEALTH ESSENTIAL TO BODILY HEALTH

It is just as necessary to keep the outside of the body protected against germs and infection as it is the inside.

Many diseases are transmitted through the pores of the skin. Many serious infections come from lack of proper skin care.

The best of skin protection is cleanliness. And cleanliness—actual, honest cleanliness—demands use of clean, pure soap. You can't keep the skin clean and in a healthful condition when you close the pores with impure soap.

Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap is the purest and best Toilet Soap that can be manufactured. It is made exclusively of the purest and most excellent ingredients of greatest cleansing quality. Then these ingredients are sterilized at 198 degrees Fahrenheit. There can be no impurities in Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap. It cleanses the skin hygienically. Its soft, creamy lather removes all dirt, all accumulations from the pores of the skin. It leaves the skin—the surface of it down to the very depths of the pores—thoroughly clean, refreshed, invigorated. A state of cleanliness that establishes a degree of resistance against ailments that might arise through improperly cared for skin—and with it that desirable pink-and-white quality of complexion that can be acquired only through proper skin care.

Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap is not a medicated soap—not a soap for emergency use—but an everyday toilet soap of greatest soap purity.—Adv.

Profits Helped Build Our Business

Do you think it's right to save money?

Swift & Company's business has been built up partly by selling capital stock for cash and partly by thrifty saving, putting some of our earnings each year back into the business to increase facilities for production.

That is what most all of us seek to do—save part of our earnings for future usefulness.

It is the way American industries have been built up. It means the least drain on the financial resources of the country.

For the past twenty-four years Swift & Company has made an average profit from all sources of 11.3 per cent on investment (capital and surplus), and 2.3 cents on each dollar of sales—a fraction of a cent per pound. Out of this we have paid dividends and saved something to help us keep pace with a growing country.

STREET CARNIVALS TO PAY HIGH LICENSE

Ordinance Presented Fixing License Fee at $300 Per Week—Pay Rolls Approved—Session Was Brief.

Street carnivals visiting Jacksonville in the future will have to dig deep if the ordinance presented for a first reading at the city council meeting Monday evening is adopted.

The ordinance provides for a license fee of $300 per week or any fraction thereof for street carnivals showing inside the city limits. The fee for other traveling shows charging an admission fee of 25 cents is fixed in the ordinance at $5 for the first performance and $3 or each performance thereafter.

During the administration of Mayor Rodgers the fee for carnivals was raised to $75 per week and for traveling shows charging an admission fee of 25 cents it was fixed at $3 and $2. The present council raises this ante considerably.

Owing to the fact that this was a legal holiday it was not known whether or not a meeting would be held. However, the mayor and aldermen thought they should earn their salaries so the meeting was held as usual.

All aldermen except Ald. Ehrie and Moore were present when the roll was called with Mayor Crabtree presiding. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Claims and payrolls were presented and on motion of Ald. Cain seconded by Ald. Flynn all those properly approved were ordered paid.

Boost License for Street Fairs. The clerk then gave the first reading to the ordinance fixing the license of street fairs or carnivals and traveling shows that charge an admission fee of 25 cents.

The ordinance fixed the license for street carnivals at $300 per week and for traveling shows at $5 for the first performance and $3 or each performance thereafter. This license, however, does not affect performances given in any of the regular theaters. These theaters pay a yearly license which covers all performances given in them.

It seemed to be the general opinion of the members of the council that the fee of $75 would not cover the damage done and the extra police work necessary when a carnival was in town. Some of the aldermen expressed themselves as believing that the city would be better off if street carnivals kept away from the city entirely. The ordinance will come up for a second reading and passage at the next meeting.

Offer for Old Engine House. Mayor Crabtree to whom had been referred the matter of selling the old engine house, said the Illinois Telephone company had made an offer of $2,750 for the property.

The mayor said that he had not accepted the offer but had held it in abeyance until he could report the matter back to the council. The matter was left with the mayor and the finance committee for further consideration.

Offer to Haul Boilers. Ben Cohen was present and said he was ready to make an offer to the council to haul and set the boilers recently purchased. Mr. Cohen said he was well equipped to do the work and believed he could make an offer advantageous to the city.

Ald. Chapin said the water committee was not ready as yet to make any contract for having the boilers moved.

Wants Walks Laid. Ald. McGinnis again asked if anything had been done about having Hoffman fulfill his contract for walks he had agreed to build.

Mayor Crabtree in reply stated that he had been hoping that he would be able to take a trip around the city and see where the walks were to be laid and then take some action but had not been able to do so.

Ald. McGinnis seconded by Ald. Flynn moved that Otis Hoffman be notified to at once commence to lay walks for which he had contracts. The motion carried. Ald. Flynn called attention to rubbish that had been left in East court street and East State street where the Jacksonville Monument company had been erecting a building. He thought it should be moved. Ald. McGinnis also called attention to a bad place in West Walnut street and Ald. Williamson mentioned a bad place in North Diamond street.

The matter of seeing to the moving of the rubbish adjacent to the monument building was referred to Superintendent of Streets White.

No further business appearing the council on motion adjourned.

THOUGHT IT A

GOOD THING
Mrs. Ross Hinderliter formerly Miss Mildred Applebee introduced music last year into the public schools at Cuba, Fulton county. The work done by her so pleased the pupils, parents and directors that she was offered the position of supervisor of music of the grades for next year at double the salary she received for work in the high school and grades last year.

She expects to have the same position in the Community High school at a salary one-third of what she will receive for grade work.

Mrs. Hinderliter is now visiting a few days with her parents, Dr. J. O. Applebee and wife, 351 Sandusky street.

REV. M. L. PONTIUS IN ANNUAL G. A. R. SERMON

Delivers Eloquent Discourse to Matt Star Post and W. R. C. Sunday Morning—Praises Veterans for Great Service Accomplished.

A good sized delegation of the Grand Army and Relief Corps marched to the Christian church Sunday morning to hear the annual memorial sermon by Rev. M. L. Pontius. Every possible courtesy was shown the visitors and they heard one of the best of discourses. The church was fittingly decorated with flags and patriotic emblems and all was in keeping with the solemnity of the occasion. The music was especially good under the leadership of Prof. Keop and all was most interesting.

The sermon by Mr. Pontius was one of the best and was heard with close attention and great appreciation. His theme was the words of Paul to Timothy, "Good Soldier."

In glowing words of eloquence the reverend gentleman depicted the stirring scenes of the war, the results, the triumphs and trials of the army. He said in brief:

It is a genuine pleasure to me today to have the honor of addressing the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Woman's Relief Corps. It is truly fitting that we recall the deeds of valor done by the defenders of our land for they truly were good soldiers in the trying times of the Civil war.

Many hardships were endured and the contest was strenuous for we were fighting our equals and on their own ground. For the great rank and file of the Confederacy I have no words of condemnation. They were honestly believed they were fighting for their homes and firesides and they fought bravely and with enormous sacrifice.

They believed they would build up an independent nation of their own. But for the cruel officials who conceived the awful prison pens of the south; for the leaders who knew better I have only feelings of censure and for the men who stayed at home and fought the government in the rear; for the copperheads of the war I have only feelings of contempt.

Soldiers of the Grand Army of the Republic, I greet you as true heroes; men whose valor saved our land in times of greatest danger. It was you who tearfully bade father, mother, sister, brother, wife, children or sweet-heart farewell and bared your breast to rebel lead and bayonets that we today might enjoy a land of freedom and prosperity. We who have been born since that time can hardly realize what your service meant. We cannot put ourselves in your places but we do offer you the tender gratitude of our hearts and assure you of our appreciation of what your valor accomplished.

Our text says a good soldier but I would now read farther and say "good soldier of Jesus." You served your country bravely and well. Your heads are whitening with the frosts of many winters. I may not address you again. I did so six years ago but six years hence after you have been the rounds of the other churches I may not be here and probably but few of you will be here. Let me then earnestly entreat you to enlist under the banner of King Immanuel if you have not already done so. He is a leader who has never known defeat; He will guide to sure and certain victory over the last enemy of all. May God bless you richly and abundantly.

At the close of the eloquent discourse the members of the post all pressed forward to greet the speaker and express their great appreciation of his effort.

Special Steels Eliminate Useless Weight in a

MAXWELL

The reason the Maxwell engine is so responsive and yet thrifty, the reason the tires roll into big mileage is due largely to one fact: A Maxwell is burdened with no useless weight.

Special steels make this so. They are made to Maxwell's own formulae. No other steels in any car are just like them.

These special steels are of great strength and make possible the ideal Maxwell construction of brute strength with light weight.

Obviously, they are high priced metals. They equal, pound for pound, the steels in any car built.

The wisdom of their use in the Maxwell becomes evident when one observes the rapid growth in public favor of this remarkable car.

Consider that nearly 400,000 of them are now in use; that 100,000 more will be added to this total in 1920.

Rheumatism Relief -- 25c.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), Are Helping Thousands Who Tried Expensive Things Without Result. It's Guaranteed.

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of waste. Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body?

Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things, as 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days—must help you must give you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you nothing.

Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism, it improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the system. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time! Just try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

The internal revenue department is soon to open a permanent office in Jacksonville for S. J. Tompkins, who represents the department in Morgan, Scott and Greene counties. Mr. Tompkins said yesterday that the location of the office had not yet been determined but several were under consideration. He will have a stenographer as an assistant, one who has passed civil service examination and who is familiar with many questions relating to the department. While Mr. Tompkins will spend much of his time here, he will still make visits into Scott and Greene counties.

LARGE CLASS TAKES DEGREES OF K. OF C.

LOCAL COUNCIL NOW HAS MEMBERSHIP OF 625—PLANS SHAPING FOR NEW CLUB HOME.

Eighty six men were initiated into Jacksonville council No. 368 Knights of Columbus, Sunday with impressive ceremonies. The lodge home was established July 31, 1904, with eighty-five charter members and the growth has been such that the membership roll today shows 625 names.

The local degree team put on the work of the first and second degrees while the third was exemplified under the supervision of E. A. Simmons of Pontiac, a district deputy, and his assistants. There was a very large attendance of Knights here for the service, representatives from Beardstown, Springfield, Carlinville, Carrollton, Pontiac and other cities being present.

Members of the local lodge and visiting Knights met at the hall on East State street and attended 10:30 mass at the Church of Our Savior. At 1 o'clock the degree work was begun at the M. W. A. hall on the south side of the square, the ceremony continuing until late in the afternoon. Then the Knights assembled at the K. C. hall for the splendid banquet which the Ladies Aid Society had prepared.

It was at this banquet that $29,500 was pledged toward the fund for a building of the K. C. Club. It will be remembered that several months ago the Knights of Columbus purchased the Hargrove property on East State street and it is to be rebuilt and enlarged into a commodious club home. The plans for financing and building were presented by Rev. Father Formaz in a very brief time and the $29,500 was quickly subscribed toward the $35,000 which it is considered will be necessary for the project.

The lease on the present quarters in the Ebnie building will not expire for three years and there is therefore no special hurry in completing the plans. However, it is the intention to complete the subscription fund at an early date and at a later time to undertake the building operations. While the plans have not been worked out in all details, in a general way they show that the organization is to have a very attractive club home.

The program at the banquet was as follows:

Invocation—Rev. Edward Cahill.

Toastmaster—H. D. Lavery.

Address—Judge P. A. Gibbons.

Address—Rev. F. F. Formaz.

Vocal solo—Albert G. Strausser.

Address—E. A. Simmons.

Songs—K. of C. Quartette.

Address—Hon. Edmund Burke.

The officers of Council 368 are:

Financial secretary—John J. Ferry.

Treasurer—Otto M. Schaefer.

Advocate—M. J. Crowe.

Warden—Joseph Ojerson.

Inside Guard—John McGinnis.

Outside Guard—J. E. Kelly.

Trustees—John W. Clary, James McBride, Theodore Hagel.
